Internationalising the University
A Spiritual Approach
by

Kalyani Unkule

Associate Professor, JGLS and
Director (International Affairs and Global Initiatives), JGU

ABOUT THE BOOK

This book takes a critical look at the internationalisation of higher education and argues for the importance of grounding education in spiritual perspectives. Using spiritual traditions to review the practices, programmes, and philosophies of learning that internationalise universities, the author proposes a paradigm for internationalisation that respects other ways of knowing. This focus seeks to decolonize knowledge and promote intercultural understanding, as well as help students achieve holistic personal development while studying abroad

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Kalyani Unkule is Associate Professor and Director of International Affairs and Global Initiatives at O.P. Jindal Global University, India, where she teaches international relations while researching and practicing higher education internationalization. In her previous roles, she has worked with corporate and third sector organizations in different parts of the world. She is also a thought leader and experienced trainer on the themes of cross-border partnership building and management and nurturing young leaders for the future. Having completed her BA and MA degrees respectively in Economics and Social Work, in 2007 she was awarded the Erasmus Mundus scholarship to pursue MA/MSc Global Studies at London School of Economics and University of Leipzig. Returning to India in 2010, she held positions in Government and consulting before joining Jindal Global University in 2012. In 2011, Kalyani founded The Whiteboard Initiative to provide support for stronger Higher Education ties between India and Europe, with support from the European Commission and her Erasmus Mundus alumni community. Currently she is also a member of the GLOBUS Horizon 2020 Research Consortium, the Jean Monnet Network's 'EUCROSS' ('The European Union at the Crossroads of Global Order') and The Global Working Group on International Students and Law Schools and remains passionately committed to promoting intercultural understanding and creating opportunities for educational exchanges between young people around the world.
