About GSSS Blog

The main focus of GSSS Blog is to create a forum to share analytical views on countries and peoples of the "Global South," including those in Africa, Asia, Latin America, and the Middle East.

Themes

While there are no rigid thematic constraints, the article should be related to Global South Studies. GSSS Blog solicits blog articles on a broad range of issues and topics affecting Southern countries and peoples. It may address questions involving politics, history, economics, culture, social organization, legal systems, agriculture, the environment, global institutions and systems, justice, and more. The expectation is that the submitted article will provide informed perspective, critical thinking and new insight to the readers.

Blogs on recent topics will be appreciated, even though that's not the sole criteria. The writing should be innovative and highlight one's research.

Eligibility

Researchers, faculty, students who wishes to pen down his/her thoughts on any emerging related global south issue can put on his thinking cap and is free to send the write-up.

Rewards

The Authors of the published blogs will get a certificate of publication. The Author(s) of the best blog will get a certificate of merit as well.

Deadline

There is no deadline, we are accepting the blog posts submission on rolling basis.
