How to make Economic and Business Reporting Interesting

by

Mr. Harish Damodaran

Harish Damodaran is National Editor (Rural Affairs and Agriculture) of The Indian Express. A journalist with over 27 years of experience, including previously with The Hindu Business Line and the Press Trust of India, much of his career has been devoted to agribusiness and rural reporting. Damodaran is also the author of India's New Capitalists: Caste, Business and Industry in a Modern Nation (Permanent Black/Palgrave Macmillan, 2008 & Hachette, 2018), a book that looks at the ethnic origins and evolution of India's business class, especially in the post-Independence period. He has been a Fellow of the New India Foundation, Bangalore (2004), Visiting Fellow at the Center for the Advanced Study of India, University of Pennsylvania (2008) and Poynter Fellow at Yale University (2009). Damodaran is currently working on a business biography of the founder of India's third largest industrial house at the time of Independence.
